Recommended Activities.

Whichever season you visit, Banff offers a wealth of activities to elevate your experience. We would love to make tailored recommendations for your group – just let us know your interests and we'll go from there! In the following pages, you'll find some ideas to inspire your planning.

We're also pleased to connect you with providers of Indigenous cultural experiences in the local area. While The Juniper is not an Indigenous-led business, we're grateful for our relationships with local communities, and value opportunities to share and celebrate their deep connection with this place.

Active & Nature

Winter Thrills

Only minutes from the Juniper, Mt. Norquay resort offers downhill skiing and snowboarding from November – April (weather dependent). The smallest of the Big 3 resorts, it's ideal for a short group outing or beginner-intermediate skiers. If you're a more advanced group, direct highway access makes a trip to Sunshine Village (25 minutes) or Lake Louise (45 minutes) extra convenient.

Mt. Norquay also offers snow tubing – a fun, adrenaline packed mountain activity with no experience necessary!

For even more winter fun, an indoor curling and hockey rink, plus outdoor skating meadow, are only moments away at Banff's Fenlands Recreation Centre.

Relaxed Hiking Trails

For a group walk in nature, the nearby Fenlands Loop, Vermilion Lakes and Banff River Trail offer gorgeous scenery without too much exertion. These can be enjoyed at any time of year, though ensure proper non-slip footwear for winter walks.

For a little more elevation, but still accessible to most, Tunnel Mountain Trail is a Banff classic. For a lesser-known alternative, Stoney Lookout is close to the Juniper and offers a 'summit' experience with a quick round-trip. Both these trails are most recommended in Spring/Summer, but can be explored with snowshoes in the winter months.

Active & Nature

Sightseeing from Above

For all the views without the effort, Mt. Norquay operate a sightseeing chairlift with amazing views in winter and summer! A less crowded alternative to the popular Sulphur Mountain Gondola, it's just a little way up the hill from the Juniper.

For an even easier group photo opportunity, continue a couple of minutes past the hotel turn-off on Mount Norquay road and stop off at the lookout spot. You'll find an open grassy patch on the hillside with all of Banff spread out below.

Guided experiences

A guided hike or tour can be a wonderful way to learn more about our unique destination. We particularly recommend Indigenous-led walks from Mahikan Trails and Zucmin Guiding, which explore local flora and fauna and give insights into their role in traditional cultures.

For a more adrenaline-filled activity, the Mt. Norquay Via Ferrata (summer only) lets you experience mountain climbing without needing any expertise. With the support of a guide and all equipment provided, you'll follow a route of holds and ladders bolted into the mountain.

Cultural

Elders tell us of six First Nations language groups who hold cultural memory of the Bow Valley. It is spoken of as a meeting place, territory that does not belong to any one community, but is shared by all. A place to lay down weapons, in the shadow of the Sacred Guardian Buffalo Mountain, home to the healing waters of the Holy Spring.

At the edge of our leasehold lies a tangible piece of Secwepemc culture, here in the Rocky Mountains. The archaeological remains of a Kiguli (or Kekuli) semi-subterranean pit house date back over 4,000 years. They tell the story of Secwepemc peoples travelling from the west to the mountains, returning season after season into the 19th century, and perhaps beyond.

In honour of this living memory, we are pleased to connect our guests with Indigenous cultural experiences to enhance their time here. We also provide space for Indigenous groups and leaders to gather and share knowledge and culture.

Smudge

Open your meetings with a traditional smudge ceremony led by an Indigenous elder. We would be pleased to connect you with local elders who offer this experience, and guide you on appropriate protocols and honoraria. Weather permitting, we ask that smudge ceremonies are performed outdoors – a private space can be organized for your group.

Indigenous Cultural Infrastructure

An area of the Juniper grounds can be provided for Indigenous leaders and groups to construct a sweat lodge and hold a sweat. Washroom facilities are available in the neighbouring cabins, which will be allocated for the group's exclusive use during this time. We are committed to creating space for Indigenous cultural practices in Banff, so please reach out with any specific needs and we will do our best to accommodate.

Land Acknowledgment

If you would like to open your meetings with a land acknowledgment, we are happy to provide suggested wording options, or links to multimedia content. You may also request a member of our team to perform a land acknowledgment, depending on availability for your dates.

Cross-Cultural Education

Our teams have benefited from the wisdom of cultural educators in the Bow Valley. If you would like to include a learning session as part of your program, we would be happy to offer some recommendations.
